As promised, here are 2 options to get your setup ready to start coding:

OPTION 1: move to Google Colab

OPTION 2: fix your setup on VS Code

--

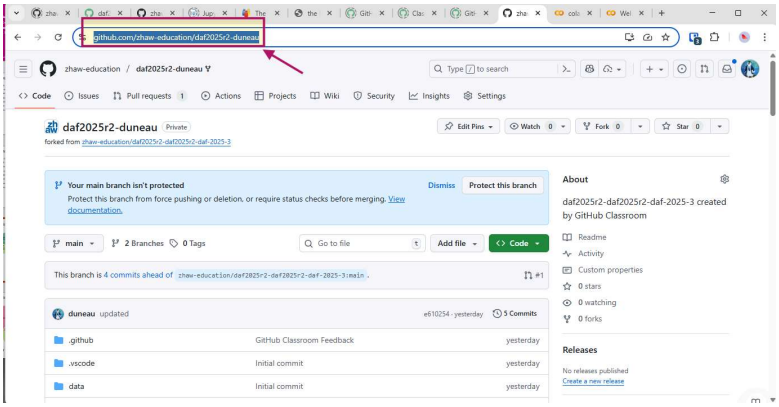
Here are the detailed steps for each option:

OPTION 1: Move to Google Colab

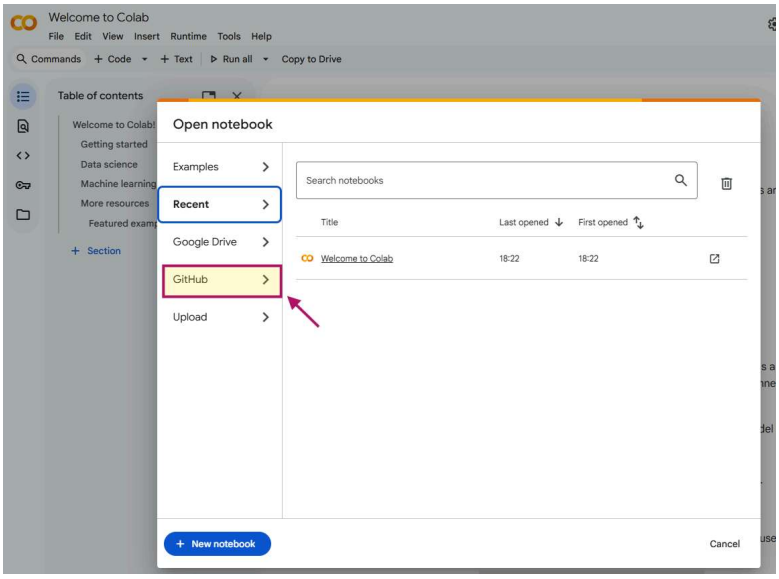
Step 1: create a google account
Step 2: visit the web site: https://colab.google/
Step 3: connect colab to your github repo

Step 3.1 go to github, login and navigate to your DAF repository

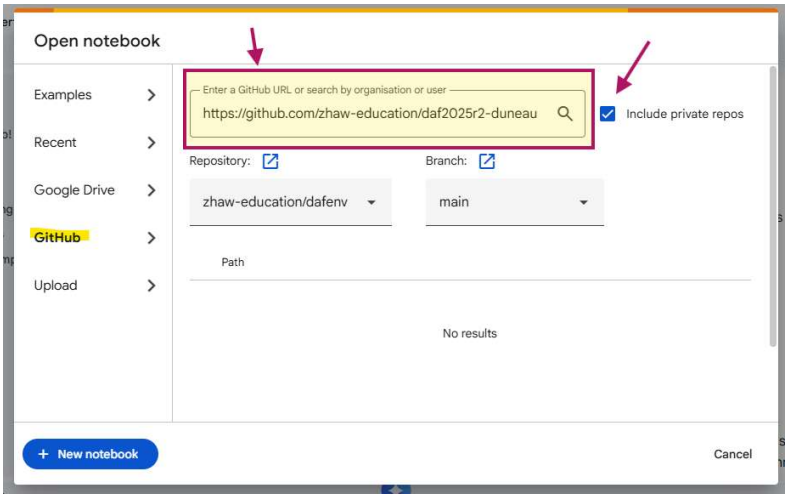
Copy the URL of your repository



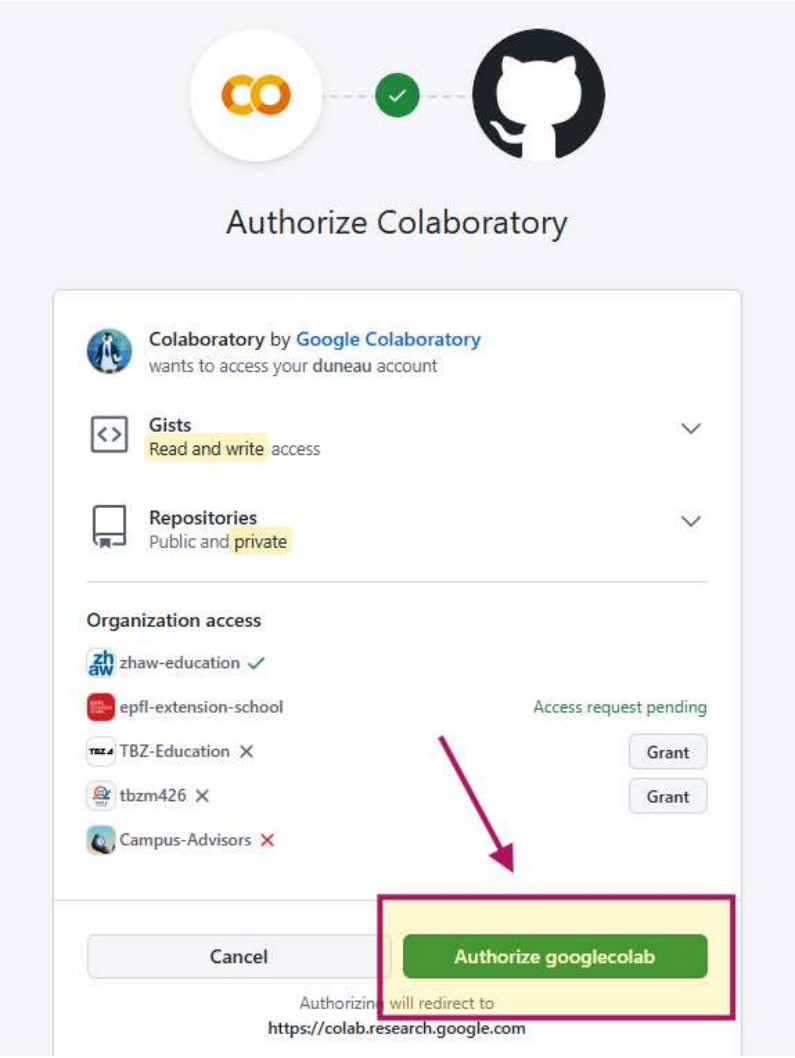
Step 3.2 Finish the google colab setup



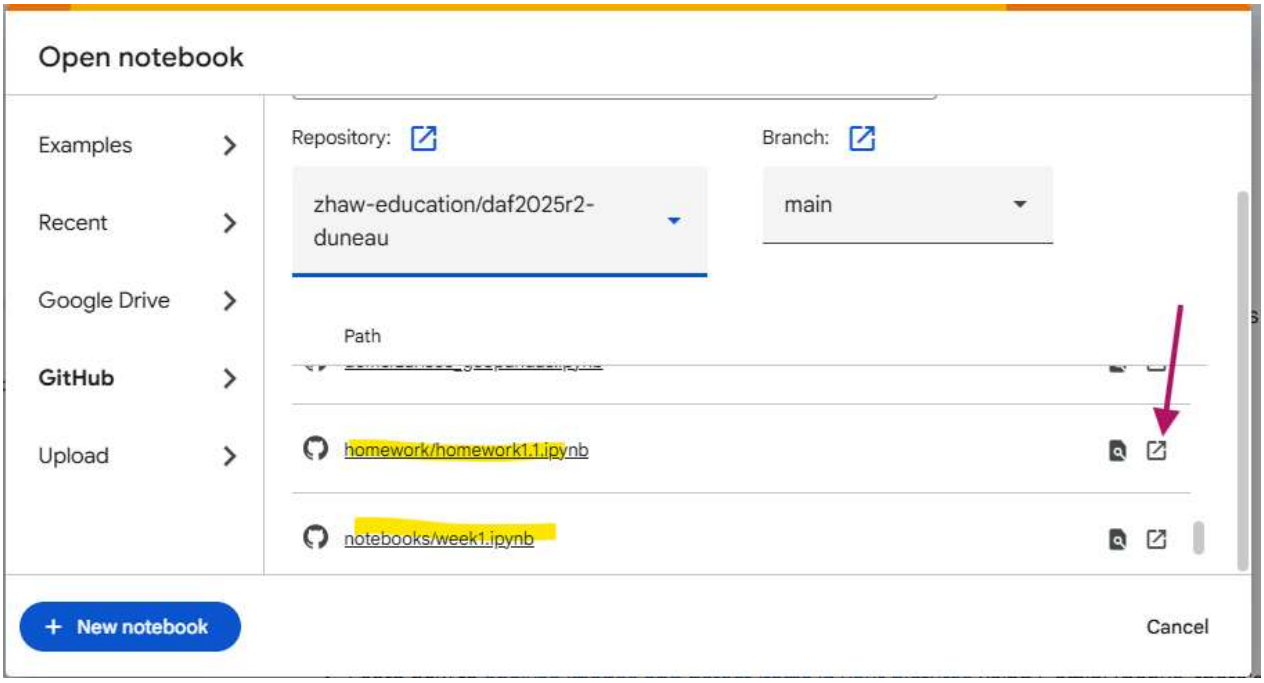
Paste the URL of your Github repository, tick the "include private repos" box.



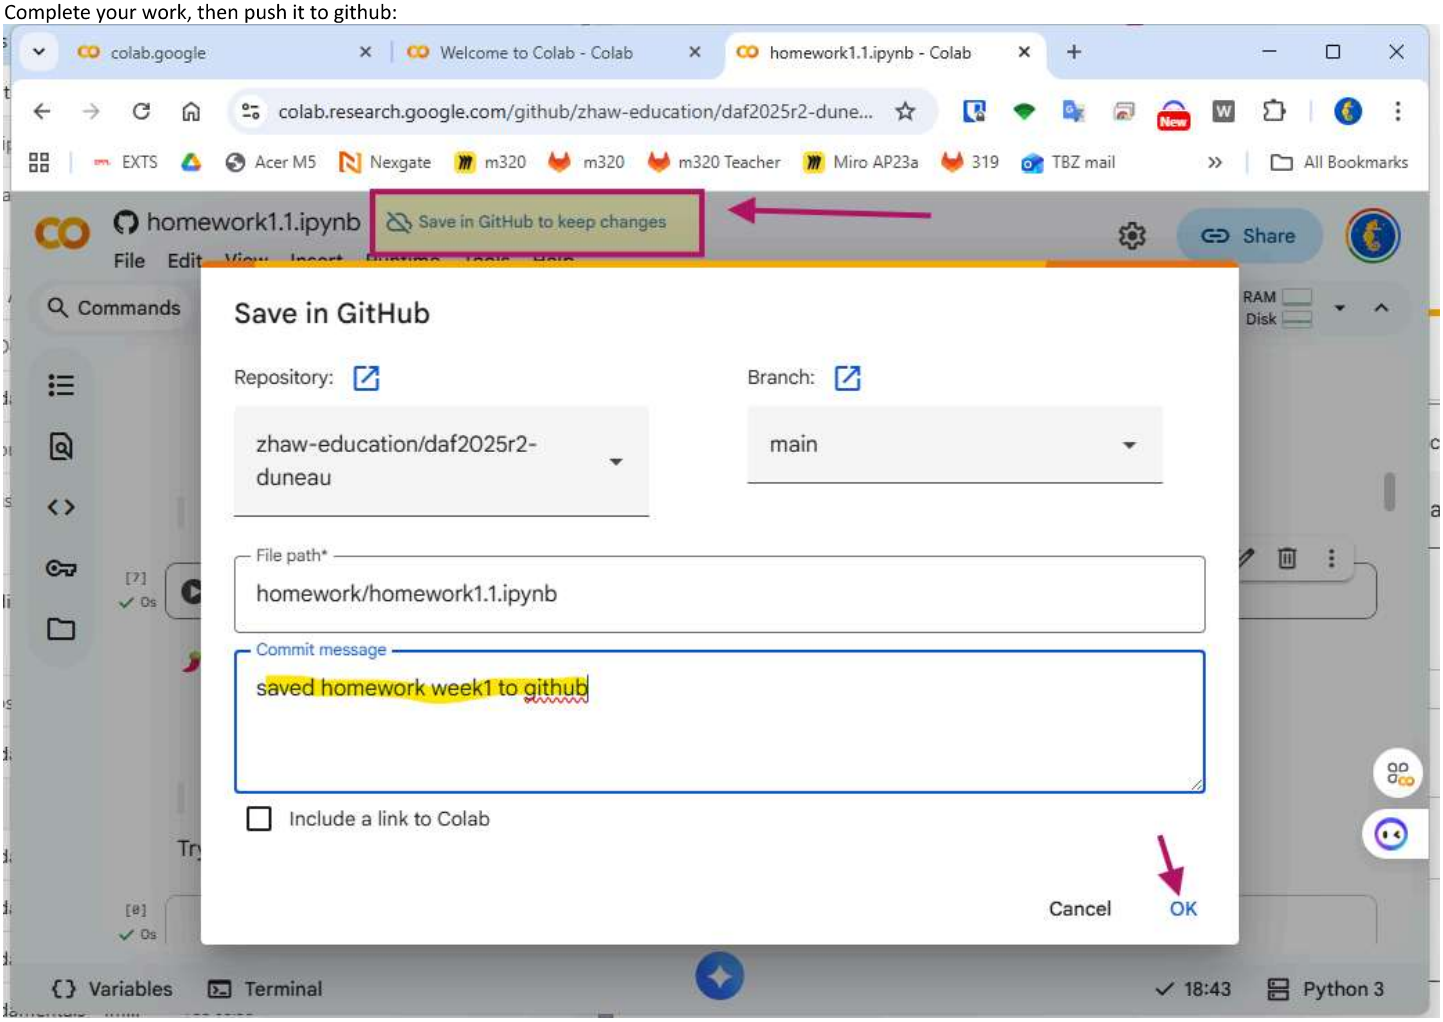
When prompted, accept to grant access to connect Google Colab to Github



Select the notebook you want to work on and click on "open"



Complete your work, then push it to github:



You can now see your updated file on your github repository:
